D. A. R. PRESIDENT SCORES PACIFISM AND BOLSHEVISM

Says Influence at Work to Destroy American Institutions, Urges
Women to Fight Through Public Schools

DEPLORES FREEING FOSTER AND HERRIN MINE RIOTERS

By Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, Apr. 16.—Bolshevism and pacifism were brought under a raking fire here today by Mrs. George Maynard Miner, president general of the Daughters of the American Revolution at the annual congress of the Daughters. She asked American women to link themselves together for a battle against influences now at work to destroy American institutions and suggested the American public schools as the fitting place to begin such a crusade. It was asserted that eight thousand teachers are not only disloyal to the country but are using their positions to disseminate doctrines and discredit ideals of the American nation. She asserted that the execution of near general Batchavitch in Russia was only the outward manifestation of a policy which denies home, country and God. She also deplored a failure to secure the conviction of William Z. Foster in Michigan and of those who participated in the Herrin mine riots. "It is time to awake to this danger," she said, "and tell the radical agitators there is no room in this country for reds."

PHILIP BRANSON HEARING TODAY

Man Who Killed Dan Neal Bound
Over to Grand Jury, $3,000
Bond

Philip Branson, charged with killing Dan Neal, negro, at the Monarch mines on the morning of April 6, was bound over to the grand jury under a $3,000 bond by County Judge J. S. Pingham at the preliminary trial this afternoon. The defendant and the commonwealth agreed upon this action before the trial was finished.

According to the testimony of the commonwealth witnesses, Branson who was employed on the tipple of the mine and Neal, employe of the power house, had an argument over some cinders which had been left in front of the fire box. While Branson was seated on a pile of rails, the negro struck him on the head twice with a piece of "two by four" scantling, the blows knocking him over. Witnesses stated that Neal then ran down two flights of steps and that Branson shot him in the shoulder, inflicting a wound from the effects of which he died the following Sunday.

A large number of persons were present at the preliminary hearing, most of the being colored friends of the deceased who, it seems, was popular with others of his race.

ANOTHER PRISONER TAKES FRENCH LEAVE FROM PINEVILLE JAIL

PINEVILLE, Apr. 16.—"One by one," Jim Howard's official family at the Pineville jail decreases. Joe Dozier, in on several liquor charges with approximately a year yet to serve, has gone. The gang instinct that manifested itself in the four who recently grew tired of the confinement and left was not apparent in this case, but Joe was all exclusive and went alone.
He had been taken out to do road work near Newtown when he decided to leave Pineville. But the jail was crowded.

HOLD UP WALLINS ROAD RIGHT OF WAY

No Contract Let Till Deeds Secured—Work on Other Roads Is Progressing

PINEVILLE, Apr. 16.—Some little trouble has developed in the getting of the rights of way of the contemplated road between Wallins Creek and the Bell county line. The contract for this work is to be let April 25, but the Highway Commission refuses to let any contract until the right of way is clear, and all deeds have been secured. Jack Carson, of the state highway department, is now at work surveying for the right of way. Steve Watkins, division engineer, will go to Wallins Creek April 17 to look over the survey.
The local office of the highway department reports that the work is progressing nicely on the road between Corbin and Barbourville. One steam shovel has been working for sometime there and a wheel scraper, also. Two more steam shovels are expected soon.
The work on the Pineville-Middlesboro road, just outside of Pineville, is also progressing well. C. L. Logan, assistant division engineer, announces that if the road dries, that they will begin to put on the surface next week. All drainage has been completed and one retaining wall 115 feet long is done. Another retaining wall 40 feet long adjoining the one now in is yet to be constructed.

FUNERAL SATURDAY HENRY JARVIS, DIES IN FRANKFORT

PINEVILLE, Apr. 16.—The funeral of Henry Jarvis, 19 years old, was held at 2 o'clock Saturday afternoon at Four Mile. His death occurred at Frankfort Thursday after a short illness. He was well known throughout the community and his death has caused sincere sadness to his many friends.

The body was accompanied to Pineville by his parents, his three brothers, Critt Homer and Andrew; Mrs. Oliver and daughter, Corinne; Mrs. Stewart and daughter, Mattie; and Red Walker. Joe White and William White of near Barbourville also came to attend the funeral.

MINISTERS CONDEMN STREET CARNIVALS

Pass Resolutions Asking Mayor and Council Not to Allow Any Brought Here

Denouncing street carnivals in general as "landslides of infamy," both from a moral and physical standpoint the Middlesboro Ministerial Association passed resolutions to request the mayor and city councilmen to not allow a carnival to be brought here. According to information received by the organization from the mayor, plans are being made to allow a carnival to come here to provide revenue for the repair of city streets.

The resolutions follow:
"Whereas, the information has come to the Middlesboro Ministerial association that a street carnival proposes to come to Middlesboro and that there is a likelihood of its coming for the purpose of procuring machinery for street improvements and

"Whereas, street carnivals tend to desecrate the morals of our city and leave behind them disease and desecration:

"Be it resolved, that we request our mayor and city council to not allow such a carnival to come that we prize the moral physical and mental power of our citizenship more highly than anything else." W. K. McClure, chairman; Wm. L. Powell, secretary; E. F. Bunside, Chas. Cuthbert, commandant.

Each of the members present as well as Rev. O. H. Callis and B. G. Greenfell, expressed themselves as being opposed to any such means of raising revenue.

The meeting was held in the library at 10 o'clock this morning. The members each made short talks regarding their own and religious work in general. Prof. Greenfell and Rev. Callis made brief but inspirational talks. Rev. Powell read an interesting letter from a missionary in China.

NEW PASSENGER DEPOT FOR HARLAN IS ASSURED

HARLAN, April 16.—It seems to be an established fact that the new passenger depot will be built soon and on the "Island," owned by Judge George Green. A party of railroad officials with Supt. O. B. Hollinsworth, of Middlesboro, were in Harlan Monday in their private car in the interest of the new depot. It was reported that they made a large payment to Judge Green on his property and it seems sure that they intend to build there or they would not have paid part of the purchase price.

The City Council has taken no action as yet in regard to the new bridge that will have to be built, and its location is a matter of pure conjecture, all of the property owners hoping that it will be located convenient to their property. This matter will probably be decided in the near future.

Hutchins president of Berea College, winner of the $5,000 prize for the writing of Code of Children's Morals, will speak on the subject, "Americans, the World's Hope."

Mr. Hutchins is especially well qualified to speak before a parent teachers' organization as he is a national authority on the discipline of children and kindred topics. A large attendance is expected.

The auditorium has been entirely repainted and redecorated since the last meeting of the association and now affords an attractive place for any public meeting.

LOCAL MINISTERS ENDORSE DRIVE FOR BETTER MIDDLESBORO

The general notice that the Middlesboro Daily News is receiving for its Better Middlesboro Campaign is evinced from the action taken this morning by the Middlesboro Ministers' Association. They adopted resolutions endorsing the campaign, as follows:

"Whereas the Daily News has inaugurated a 'better Middlesboro' campaign. "Be it resolved, that we extend to them our cooperation in this effort and say to them that if we can be of any service to them as an organization we shall be delighted.

"Further be it resolved that we request them not to forget that a 'better Middlesboro' can not be obtained by bettering material conditions only, but that we must consider the spiritual side of life as being paramount to any other consideration.

AFRICAN NATIVE TALKS TO EPWORTH LEAGUE LAST NIGHT

Rev. C. L. Glasheen, native of West Africa, and a convert of white missionaries, gave an interesting talk to the Epworth League members of the M. E. church last night. He told how, several years ago, he was a worshiper of idols made of clay and how he was converted by the missionaries. He also gave some interesting sketches of life among the savage tribes. He is well educated, having won the college degrees of D. D. and Ph. D.

MANY AT REVIVAL SERVICE LAST NIGHT

Callis at Pool Room Tomorrow, Speaks to Men Yesterday—Denounces Evolution

The meeting last night at the M. E. church was the best attended of the entire series, the entire auditorium being filled. Several persons went to the prayer room and there were two conversions. Rev. Callis will preach tonight on "How to Become a Christian." At 10 o'clock tomorrow morning he will conduct a short service at the Hub pool room. All men are invited to attend. The city has been divided into districts and women of the church have been appointed to conduct prayer service in each district at 10 o'clock each morning, beginning tomorrow.

Modern "Adam's Apples" were pointed out to men and boys by Rev. O. L. Callis in his special sermon at the church yesterday afternoon. At the close of the service, practically every person present signified his intention of living a cleaner, better life.

The evangelist scathingly denounced the theory of evolution, saying that the only things that would make him want to believe are "some of the big monkeys that advocate the theory." The alleged "missing link" found in England, he said, consists of "a piece of skull not much larger than the palm of your hand, the jaw bone of an ape and an eye-tooth." Thousands of people believe this rather than the Bible, he said.

FOR A BETTER MIDDLESBORO

Specific improvements make up the details of a campaign for a BIGGER AND BETTER MIDDLESBORO, and a list is to be compiled of these details, for use from day to day. Today we are advocating:

That our passenger depot be made a cleaner, more sightly and more sanitary place at once, and that the utmost influence be brought to bear toward getting a new station.

That a general movement for street improvement be instituted immediately, with emphasis on repair and construction of Cumberland Avenue.

That a system of street marking be devised in this city so that a stranger or for that matter, a resident, can find his way around without undue inquiries.

That the ordinance prohibiting spitting in public places be rigidly enforced and the practice be condemned as repugnant and unsanitary.

URGES DEMOCRAT CONVENTION TO PICK CANDIDATES

Senator Daugherty Wants No Further
Split in Party—Would Select Men
To Run For State Offices,
Form Platform

By Associated Press.

LOUISVILLE, Apr. 16.—In an open letter to Judge Charles Hardin, chairman of the Democratic State central committee, Senator Frank Daugherty of Bardonia, suggests that a committee be called together immediately to discuss the situation within the party with a view to holding a state convention to select candidates for all state offices. He points out that the committee should not meet as advocates of any candidate but as representatives of the whole Democratic party. He calls for a platform not composed of "promise planks that mean nothing" but of "planks that will be absolute pledge to the tax ridden people of the state that they will have relief."

NEW YORK, Apr. 16.—Charles M. Schwab declared in a statement here today "that indications are that we are entering a period of business expansion and utmost caution must be exercised to prevent this from developing into a secondary inflation which would be disastrous." He added, "Business is on a firm foundation but it must be kept there."

BEAUTIFUL PROGRAM PLANNED FOR RICHARD HALE CONCERT

A particularly attractive program has been arranged for the Richard Hale concert tomorrow night at the central school auditorium. It will include dramatic and operatic selections at the Hub pool room. All men are invited to attend. The city has been divided into districts and women of the church have been appointed to conduct prayer service in each district at 10 o'clock each morning, beginning tomorrow.

A THOUGHT

Rejoice not against me, O mine enemy; when I fall I shall rise; when I sit in darkness the Lord shall be unto me.—Micah 7:8.

Let none henceforth seek needless cause to approve the faith they own; when earnestly they seek such proof, conclude they then begin to fail.—Milton.

SPITTING IN PUBLIC PLACES

"A nation we are the most ill-mannered in the world. The South may be exempt from the national vice. It has always had the reputation for courtesy, and certainly during three brief visits there I experienced nothing less. It is also picturesque. I remember being speechless with admiration at the manner in which its leading citizens managed to hit the spittoon every time—even when the historic 'object d'art' was on the other side of the room."

So writes Gertrude Atherton in the Literary Digest International Book Review, in an article deploring Americans manners. We resent the characterization of our nation, but we are forced by a sense of humor to appreciate the illusion to the southern gentlemen's accomplishments, and we consider that the application could be made in no place better than in Middlesboro.

Leaving out the manners, or ethics, or even looks of the things, spitting on the streets, on the sidewalks, in all public buildings as it is practiced here is deplorably unsanitary and uncleanly. A state law rules against it and we are told that a city ordinance also prohibits spitting in public places. The ordinance, as well as the law, must have been misplaced or lost, because they are neither one enforced, at least not in this community.

This is a matter which should be taken up seriously as a safeguard to health in the city. There is no other way by which disease may be quickly spread and there is nothing more repugnant. Enforcement of the ordinance prohibiting promiscuous expectorating in public places would not cost the city any more and would afford a very good occupation for officers who find the time hangs heavy on their hands. May we urge this enforcement?

GOOD READING

Every one admits that average intelligence is very low. (Of course, no one admits belonging to the average.) But in prying ourselves collectively, we seem to have been backing up the wrong tree. For the intelligence of the average American is far higher than any of us have dreamed, according to sales of the "10-cent pocket classics" published by L. Haldeman-Julius, in Girard, Kas.

For in less than three years he has sold 31 million books. And his sales have mounted steadily until now they exceed six million copies a month. We wrote Haldeman-Julius and asked him which books have the biggest sales. We imagined that the honor would go to his edition of De Maupassant. Or, surely, if not that, to his Balzac series. Or maybe, his Oscar Wilde titles. A fourth bet was his Sherlock Holmes yarns. This list of books includes many other works of fiction of similar nature.

Here's his answer: "You ask which of our books has had the widest sale. The Trial and Death of Socrates' leads everything by far. We sold 175,000 copies of this book during 1922. The second best

LETTER FROM BEATRICE GRIMSHAW TO SALLIE ATHERTON, FRIEND OF THE NEWLY-WED JOHN ALDEN PRESCOTTS

SALLIE DEAR: Enclosed please find newspaper account of the most brilliant wedding I ever attended. Leslie Hamilton is now Leslie Prescott—in full, Mrs. John Alden Prescott.

They have left, Sallie, on a wedding trip to some unknown place and we will not know exactly where they are until we receive their first letter. The wedding was simply gorgeous, as you will see from the description, but all the while I had a faint foreboding John and Leslie do not know each other, Sallie. That is what worries me, I guess.

Of course never having been married, or even in love, I am not supposed to know anything about it, but being on the outside of it all, I am sure that I can give a more unbiased opinion than those who have been through the experience.

Sallie, it does seem to me that anyone with any sense at all should know that two people who enter into the intimate contact of marriage, expecting to be happy, should know each other thoroughly before they make the public declarations and vows of love.

I said as much the other evening when a few of us had settled ourselves about the big fireplace in the Hamilton billiard room and Sydney Carton announced, amid hilarious laughter, "I am afraid that under those circumstances we would have Heaven upon earth for there would be no marriages or giving in marriage."

I cannot understand how such a girl as Leslie can possibly think there is some mystery in the marriage service that will take two alien natures—and John and Leslie are as unlike as the poles—and fuse them into one splendid whole, alike in taste, in ideas and ideals.

Perhaps the American idea of marriage is the best of any of which we know. It would be, "If love were only all." It really seems to me, however that after the first flush of passion love or that peculiar thing we call love is the least necessary to happiness. With the same interests the same tastes, the same ambitions and enthusiasms, with tolerance and unselfishness, it seems to me that a contented companionship would come Sallie. I think I shall be your old-maid friend.

CLIPPING FROM THE SHARON DISPATCH

Yesterday at St. James, was solemnized the marriage ceremony between Miss Leslie Hamilton and Mr. John Alden Prescott. Never in the annals of Sharon society has there been so brilliant a wedding.

Mrs. Prescott has probably been the most popular girl in the city ever since her coming-out party two years ago, and yesterday, as she walked up to the "chance" rail on her father's arm she was a picture of loveliness.

Her gown was an imported creation of silver brocade from Callot Soeurs. This was covered to the floor by a veil of rose-point forming a dutch cap with lappets of pearls which partially covered the bride's red-gold hair.

Her court train, heavily trimmed with rose-point lace, was carried by the young sons of Mr. and Mrs. Reginald Stokley and Mr. and Mrs. Morton Grimshaw.

Her bridal bouquet was or white violets, lilies of the valley and tiny white rosebuds. The tiny flower-maidens threw large white rose-leaves before her.

The bridesmaids were in shades of orchid, rose and—

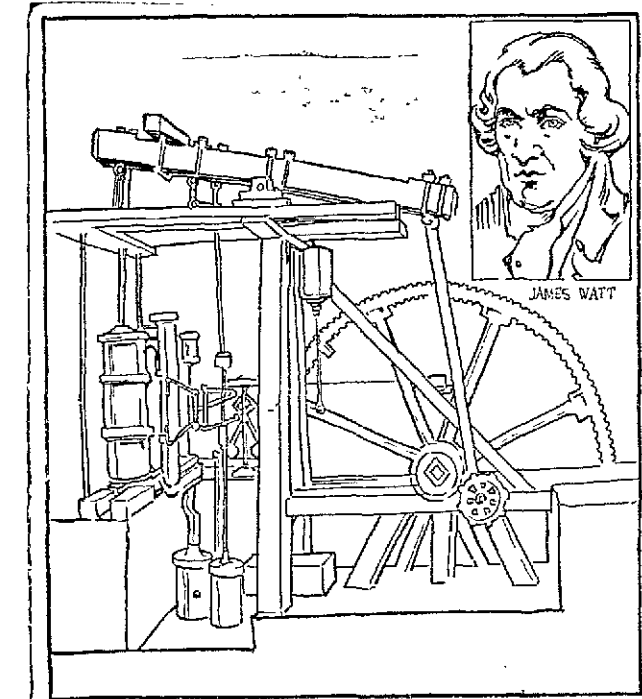

Here Sallie Atherton, who had been reading the account aloud to her husband, said:

"Isn't a wedding like this a mockery? Yours and mine was much better, dear. Come on, let's go for a walk. I want to get the taste out of my mouth. I hate money. We'll be happier than they, won't we dear?"

TOMORROW: Letter from Sallie Atherton to Beatrice Grimshaw. Is economic independence really right?

MOTCH MOTOR CO. PLAN IMPROVEMENT

To Erect New Two-Story Brick and Steel Building to Accommodate Increasing Business

Extensive improvements including the erection of a two-story modern brick and steel building at the rear of its present sales-room are planned by the Motch Motor company, local agent for the Ford and Lincoln cars. Contract for the construction work will be let within a short time and the building will be rushed to completion. Increasing business has made addition a necessity.

The addition which will take place of the one-story building now used at the rear of the sales room will be fifty feet wide by 120 feet in length. Numerous heavy glass windows set in steel sashes will afford plenty of light. The new building will be so arranged that a third story may be added should a further increase in business make this step necessary.

The repair shop will be at the rear of the first floor while the second story will be used for the storage of cars. A drive-way beginning near the front of the eastern side will afford means of taking cars to the upper story. Cars stored for only a short space of time will be kept on the second floor. A well equipped battery room will be installed on the first floor.

The firm will be able to render service more quickly and efficiently when the new building is completed. They will continue to carry a large stock of accessories and parts and will keep their agency for the Lincoln, Ford and Fordson.

From a one-story brick veneer building twenty-five by eight feet in dimensions, the Motch brothers began business at their present location in 1915. Their allotment of cars was six per year. Now their present quarters are crowded and outgrown and they sell 172 cars annually and could sell many more if delivery conditions were better.

The firm has now the best equipped shop and sales station of any Ford agency in this section of the state, but when the new building is completed the local agency here will be second to none in points of service.

National League Chiefs Size Up Their Teams

By JOHN MCGRAW, Manager N. Y. Giants

McGraw

I will be greatly disappointed if my club fails to win the National League pennant. With the best infield in either league, an outfield that will be strengthened by the addition of O'Connell, good catching, and pitching that will measure up to the standard, I see no reason why my club should not repeat. The one thing that must be guarded against is over confidence, as a result of previous successes. Holding the opposition too weakly is a grave fault that often proves costly to pennant hopes.

By PAT MORAN, Manager Cincy Reds

MORAN

My club finished second last year after one of the poorest starts ever made by a major league club. I hope to do as well this year, possibly better, which means I think we have more than a chance to win the National League pennant. My pitching is my only worry, despite the fact that I rate my staff higher than most of the other National League club. In Donahue I have a second Mathewson, one of the outstanding stars of the league. A great pitcher like him means much to a club.

By BRANCH RICKEY, Manager of St. Louis Cardinals

RICKEY

While I am always the optimist, I cannot enthuse as much over my chances for 1923 as I did the possibilities of last year. I was confident my club would win in 1922. The loss of my star outfielder, McHenry and the failure of Donk to win upset our chances. I feel that Pitcher Toney and Outfielder Myers will help the Cardinals. I am hopeful they will supply the pennant punch. We will be a strong contender all the way.

By BILL McKECHNIE, Manager of Pittsburgh Pirates

While most of the experts feel that the New York Giants will show the way in the National League, I big to differ with them. I am positive the Pirates will make things more than interesting for McGraw's club. My team is at least 20 per cent stronger than last year. "Red" Russell has added a batting punch. Traynor at third has arrived, a real star, rounding out my infield. You can't overlook the Pirates in doping out the finish.

By BILL KILLEFER, Manager Chicago Cubs

KILLEFER

Nothing short of the first division will satisfy me for the coming season. In finishing fifth last year with an average better than .500 we surprised the baseball world. I am sure we will do even better this year. I am basing my hopes on improved pitching. Some of my younger pitchers will have greatly benefited by last year's experience while Osborne should be one of the best pitchers in the league. The Cubs will be dangerous.

By WILBERT ROBINSON, Manager Brooklyn Dodgers

It is customary for managers to win pennants before the opening of the season. I don't cherish any pennant hopes this year. A first division berth will be entirely satisfactory. In rebuilding my team I will have to use a number of untried recruits as regulars. They are certain to make many costly mistakes. Only experience will give them a big league polish. My pitching is my one big hope. There is no better staff in the National League. My club will get good pitching, but pitching alone will not win ball games.

By FRED MITCHELL, Manager Boston Braves

Take it from me the Boston Braves will not finish last in 1923. No club in the history of baseball had tougher luck than we did last year. At one time we had only 14 men in the squad in condition to play. Fifty minor and major injuries handicapped us through out the year. The Braves have picked up some very promising material which will strengthen some of the weak spots of last year. The Braves will not finish last.

By ART FLETCHER, Manager Philadelphia Nationals

In my first year as manager my big ambition is to finish one notch higher than last year. In 1922 the Phillies moved out of last place. While most of the experts are picking my team to finish last this year, I am shooting at sixth place. Sands at short should help my club. He is a fine fielder and I am hoping that he will hit big league pitching. I am figuring on Meadows and Weinert showing a much improved grade of twirling.

A learned professor says college women should not marry; but then, of course, he never was one.

They Standardize On Internationals

FREE INSPECTION SERVICE

Every man who owns an International Motor Truck has made an investment in two kinds of service—the transportation service he receives from his truck and the "after sale service" with which the Company backs the truck. The two are inseparable.

Hundreds of thousands of dollars worth of repair parts are distributed among 93 branch houses, and International dealers in every section of the country. This assures International Motor Truck owners that a needed part can be obtained without delay in any emergency.

In addition, four times a year, at regular intervals, each International is inspected by one of a corps of competent road engineers traveling out of 93 branch houses. Drivers are instructed in the care and operation of trucks, minor adjustments are made, and a written report given to the owner at time of inspection regarding the exact condition of his truck. This service is free.

It pays to take advantage of the experience of others. It pays to invest in hauling equipment backed by an organization that systematically helps you realize a profit on your investment. It pays to haul with Internationals.

LINCOLN MOTOR CARS

There is a pride of ownership which comes instinctively to the man who drives a Lincoln. It is felt with the first mile that the car is driven.

It grows with each succeeding demand upon the performance ability of the motor—the riding luxury of the car itself—until it reaches its fullest realization in a complete knowledge that there is no motoring requirement which cannot be met by this car.

SEDAN—Five Passengers

Save from $52 to $78 a year

You will be amazed to see how the use of "Bull" Durham will cut down the cost of your smoking.

How is it possible to give you quality at the low cost of 10 cents for 50 cigarettes?

ANSWER: The government tax alone on 50 machine-made cigarettes is 15 cents—5 CENTS MORE THAN THE COST OF 50 "BULL" DURHAM CIGARETTES TO YOU!

The average smoker saves $1 to $1.50 a week by "rolling his own" from "Bull"—or from $52 to $78 a year. This makes quite a Christmas fund—or pays for a fine trip.

PROTEST TAXI LICENSE UNFAIR

Drivers Prepare to Quit Transfer Because Taxi Fee $75 While Bus
Fee Is $50

Dissatisfied with what they consider an unfair license fee as compared to that paid by bus drivers, some local taxicab drivers are preparing to quit the transfer business May 1, the date when the new rate becomes effective. The charge for taxi license is $75 while that of the busses is $50.

It is argued by the taxi men that the heavy busses with their loads which frequently consist of a score or more passengers each trip do a much greater damage to the roads than the light touring cars used by the taxi drivers. They say that the charge should be made in proportion to the wear on the road caused by the respective vehicles.

There are approximately sixty licensed taxi drivers in Middlesboro, according to Frank Kearns, city collective. It is the opinion of many of the drivers that the business has become crowded here. Though the population in Middlesboro and vicinity has greatly increased during the past few years, many new bus lines have come into existence which more than offsets the increased demand for passenger transportation.

The taxis are a great public service in Middlesboro, a large town which has no trolley car lines. While there the busses, they furnish a quick and private means of transportation at any rates are higher than those charged by time of the day or night. Also, they reach points which the busses do not.

Most of the drivers render efficient service, having a thorough knowledge of the geography of this section and being expert in the handling of a car on rough roads.

COLONIES NEAR AUTO FAC- RIES TO DRIVE CARS THROUGH

Every automobile manufacturing center has a colony of people who are engaged in the business of driving new cars away from the factories to distributing points. These cars, which are shipped over the highways, are called, in the parlance of automobile men "driveaways". The same name is now being applied to those who pilot
the cars.

In Flint, Michigan, there are approximately three hundred people who make their livelihood in this way. The dean of them all is Matt McCabe, who has charge of all Dort driveaways. Matt is an interesting character and in his time he has com-modored over 6,000 Dort cars from the factory.

"Funny thing how I got into this business," says Matt. "I like to drive I would drive all day and night. If the Missus would let me. I guess I was born with a steering wheel in my hands. Well, when I had a chance to take charge of Dort driveaways I sold my drug store and got in the driveaway business. I've never regretted it."

STUDEBAKER WINS S. A. RACE CLASSIC

Special-Six Again leads the Field in the Gran Premio-Buenos Aires
to Rosario and return.

A Studebaker Special-Six, driven by William T. Burke, won the Gran Premio of Argentine-South America's most important race of the year—against a field which included some of the world's highest priced cars. This race is an annual event held under the auspices of the Argentine Automobile Club.

This is the second year in succession that Studebaker has raced to victory in the Grand Premio.

The distance was from Buenos Aires to Rosario and return—about 470 miles—and the winner's time, 19 hours, 45 minutes, 35 seconds.

Makes: Studebaker, Packard, Lincoln,
Hispan-Suiza, Hudson, Buick, Lancia, Twenty-Six cars entered in the race, including those of the following Chandler and Page. Because of bad roads, only 10 of the 26 entrants finished, four of which were Studebakers.

A Lincoln, driven by Pedro Malgor, came in second, time 19 hours, 47 minutes, 29 seconds. A Studebaker Light-Six, driven by Paris Gianni, was a close third, time 19 hours, 48 minutes, 35 seconds.

BUNGALOW ON WHEELS PROMOTES CAMPING DE- LUXE FOR MOTORISTS

When you go out camping this summer, take your bungalow with you!
It's easy.

Just get one of these here bungalows on wheels that are being manufactured by a prominent automobile manufacturer and you won't miss one city convenience on your entire trip. In fact, this conveyance adds to the pleasures you've been used to in your city home—in travel and outdoor recreation.

That's the manufacturer's advertising talk, and he bases this on the following information about the traveling bungalow.

The body of the car is of regular bus construction, well finished both inside and out. Floor is covered with battleship linoleum. All-glass windows, four disappearing sashes;
receptacle over wheel house for chains and tools, box bed, upholstered in Spanish leather; feather mattress;
clothes closet, white enamel sink,

aluminum lined recess for stove, two cupboards under sink and stove recess, portable collapsible table, hot and cold water connections, cold water storage tank.

Besides, there's a package rack, two dome lights, nickel-plated brass and glass fittings, door at the rear and sided with step and tire rack, two removable leather seats, and so on and so on.

You may even install a radio set, if you wish!
Altogether, the "bungalow" makes a good, comfortable road home for summer travelers. It is built in two sizes, one for highway travel a little wider and higher than the other for lilly country and off roads.

MARCH GREATEST MONTH IN HISTORY OF AUTOMOBILE

The greatest month in the history of the automobile industry has just been passed. This is established in the report to the directors of the National Automobile Chamber of Commerce that production of passenger automobiles and trucks in March totaled 346,000!

The output for the first quarter of this year reached $67,000, the greatest ever, and more than twice that of last year's first quarter.

From this report, directors believe,
this year will see the record production of 3,000,000 motor vehicles, making the number on the highways mount beyond 15,000,000—or about one car to every seven persons in the country!

Limited supply of closed bodies might retard this production, but there are no signs of this as yet.

ANDY MOYERS TO HAVE BODY BIG BUS IMPROVED

Andy Moyers will leave for Knoxville tomorrow morning with one of his large busses for the purpose of having an improved style of body put on the chassis. The new body will have seats running the entire width with doors at each seat the same as a touring car. It will have a seating capacity of about twenty-five persons. He will continue to use the bus on the Middlesboro-Tazewell line.

Passengers will be taken on the trip to Knoxville. The bus will leave there for Middlesboro Wednesday afternoon.

The Hudson Coach

—now being driven by many of Middlesboro's prominent families.

HUDSON AND ESSEX HAVE HIDDEN VALUES

When your grandfather was a boy the firm of Biddle & Smart of Amesbury, Mass., were building fine custom carriages. Throughout the country they have been famous for years as masters in body design and good workmanship. They have built the finest Hudson closed body types for years.

Now they are putting all their body building knowledge into one model—the all-aluminum Hudson Sedan. Beautiful in appointments, mounted on the famous Super-Six chassis, it is the most beautiful Hudson ever built. The price is surprisingly low.

Exclusive Closed Body

"The Hudson Coach is an exclusive new closed body design. It brings all the utility you can get in a closed car and yet it costs but slightly more than the open-models," says Middlesboro Motor Co., Hudson and Essex dealers.

"It is durable and comfortable. Thousands of owners are proud to drive the Coach. It is a great car—a closed Hudson car one can be proud of.

Essex Stays Young

"As to the Essex car, it stays young because of its 'hidden values'—things that you and others might never notice, yet vitally important in the life of a car.

"An unusually strong frame; and a motor that is acknowledged by both foreign and American experts to be the finest of its size. These are some of the 'hidden values' that have made the Essex chassis famous. They are the unseen qualities you get in all Essex models.

"They are the things that save you money, for they keep Essex cars in satisfactory service for years."

JAZZ

The band began its music and I saw a hundred people in the cabaret stand up in couples weekly to obey the arbitrary and remorseless law of custom. And I wondered what could draw

Their weary wills to this fulfillment. Gay they were not. They embraced without dismay Lovers who showed an awful lack of awe.

Then as I sat and drank my wine apart I pondered on this new religion, which lay heavily on the faces of the rich, who, occupied with ritual, never smiled—

Because, I heard within my quiet heart Happiness laughing like a little child.

THERE'S MORE SEASONING THAN SALT AND PEPPER

The people of ancient days used more seasoning in their food preparations than we do, and some of their seasonings are not appealing to our sense of taste—assafoetida, for instance. The supposition is that, because they had no refrigeration, meats spoiled readily and some of the very highly flavored ingredients were added to cover up the taste.

But let us consider some of the seasonings besides salt and pepper, which the housewife should have on her shelves, and thus add much variety, as to flavor, in her daily menus. First of all vegetables comes the onion, and its relations, the shallot, garlic, chives and leeks.

There is nothing which so improves some salads meats and sauces as garlic. But it must be used with discretion, and that means one of the several sections found in a garlic. One of these sections which should be peeled, cut into halves and rubbed over the bowl in which a salad is served will give just that unusual and delicious flavor so often lacking.

Celery comes next, perhaps and the root, stalk, tender leaves and seed are all used for seasoning. The celery root, or "knob celery," is used in soups and salads or when creamed as a vegetable.

Parsley Useful

Then comes parsley, which should be used quite as much as a seasoning as for a garnish. When parsley is plentiful in the summer it may be dried and kept for winter use. If dipped in boiling water and then in cold water before drying the color is retained.

The leaf of the laurel or bay tree is an excellent aromatic seasoning, but if used too plentifully overpowers the other flavors. For the ordinary amount of meat or sauces a "bit" of bay leaf is sufficient and by "bit" is meant a small piece not more than a quarter of an inch long.
